

European anti-dumping of photovoltaic panels

European solar manufacturers are struggling to break even and accusing China of unfair trade practices, but the European Commission gives priority to climate goals and renewable energy ...

Brussels, 4 June - The European Commission today announced a provisional tariff on imports of solar panels, cells and wafers from China. The measure comes following a nine-month investigation into ...

The European Commission today decided to impose provisional anti-dumping duties on imports of solar panels and key components (i.e. cells and wafers) from China. An investigation found that a Chinese ...

Ahead of a high-level European Solar PV Industrial Alliance meeting with Commissioner Thierry Breton, 429 European solar companies have joined a call to EU authorities to take trade ...

On 4 June 2013, the European Commission adopted Regulation (EU) No 677/2013, which imposed provisional anti-dumping duties on imports of crystalline silicon photovoltaic modules and ...

Chinese companies are selling solar products in Europe far below their cost of production, with a dumping margin of 60 % to 80%. This means that Chinese solar companies are making ...

On September 6th 2012, the European Commission started an anti-dumping proceeding against China in order to investigate if the prices of Chinese manufactured crystalline photovoltaic wafers, cells and ...

The European Union began a broad investigation Thursday into whether Chinese companies have exported solar power equipment for less than the cost of making it, in what amounts to history's ...

Just several months after the United States initiated anti-dumping and countervailing investigations against China's solar panels industry, Europe, the largest buyer of Chinese solar products started ...

European anti-dumping of photovoltaic panels

Web: <https://upstreamjhb.co.za>

